Valuable Real estate for sale.

PURSUANT to the last Will and Testament of the late Col. RICHARD BROWN, deceased
NOW OFFER FOR SALE,
The Farm on which he resided,
on the Ohio River, in Halliday's Cove, in Brook County, Virginia.

This Estate consists of about 700 Acres of Land, of which is a rich Island, the remainder principally second bottom and upland; that part of the upland which is not tillable, is covered with timber suitable for furnishing the Island and tillable part with fencing and building timber. There are between 150 and 200 acres cleared and under cultivation, a suitable proportion of which is good meadow land. The buildings consist in two comfortable dwelling houses and a log barn with under floors of stone. It is well supplied with very fine springs of good water.

The situation of this property on the Ohio River, 12 miles from the flourishing Town of Steubenville, and in the neighbourhood of several Merchant Mills, Iron Works, &c. renders it a desirable object to a person who would wish to farm extensively, as he would probably at all times find a good market at his door for the produce of his farm. A part of the purchase will be required in hand, and for the remainder a reasonable credit will be given.

BEZ. WELLS, Executor

Steubenville, 5th July, 1816 tf

Pttsburgh, July 1st 1817.——2mo.

PHILIPSBURG.

The Subscriber having agreed with JAMES ROSS, Esq. of Pittsburgh, for the purchase of his real property, on the west bank of the Ohio River, opposite WELLSBURG, will offer for SALE, on the Second Monday in November next, the

Lots in said Town,

By him laid out upon the Premises.

The Terms of Sale will be as follows, viz.

PAYMENT to be made in three equal annual instalments from the time of Sale, without interest, with an allowance of a discount of eight per cent for prompt payment—bond with good personal security to be given by the purchaser, payable to the proprietor's agent, Thomas Johnston, in the Old Bank of Steubenville, or in some convenient Bank on the western waters, which may be hereafter named for that purpose.

Upon receiving payment for any Lot or Lots sold, Mr. Ross will execute conveyances for the same of a good and indisputable estate—for this purpose the conveyances will be deposited in the Bank, to be taken away by the purchaser upon making his payments.

The right of having or keeping a FERRY, will be reserved to the proprietor.

It is believed that no property of the kind has been offered for sale upon the western waters possessing more natural or accidental advantages. It is situated on the bank of Ohio, opposite Wellsburgh, in the centre of perhaps the richest and best improved body of lands within several hundred miles of it, in a healthy climate, and in the vicinity of towns that have flourished, and are now flourishing, but in which unimproved property is holden at so high a price, as to prevent the lower, and most useful classes of society from holding.

WELLSBURGH has long been the largest exporting town within a great distance, of articles the growth of the country. The settlement is filled with Mills and Mill-seats, abounds with coal and excellent Water. The Town offered for sale can be supplied in the dryest season, with spring water of the first quality, sufficient for the population of a large city.

A public road is now laying out from the city of Pittsburgh direct to this place, which it is believed will furnish the shortest route from that city to Smithfield, through Cadiz and Cambridge to Zanesville, and also through Mountpleasant to Zanesville.

An act of incorporation has passed the Assembly of Virginia, for Turnpiking both that road, and another to Washington, to go into effect when the Assembly of Pennsylvania shall pass similar laws. No doubt is entertained that the road from Washington will be provided for at the next session, and the work commenced in the ensuing year. These roads will make Wellsburgh and the New Town the principal thoroughfare of travelling from east to west, and from west to east, connected as they will be with the eastern and northern states through Pittsburgh, and with the middle states by the great Cumberland road at Washington.

Persons desiring to purchase property in the proposed Town, would do well to remember the success of those who, at the time of their respective establishments, purchased town property in Steubenville, Smithfield, Cadiz, &c. Such has been the rise in value of the property. It cannot be doubted that the same success will attend those who may purchase in the town now proposed for sale.

The articles of agreement between the subscriber and Mr. Ross, will be shewn on the day of sale and the particular terms of public sale be more clearly stated by the Agent.

CLEOPATRA'S BARGE.

The celebrated brig, "Cleopatra's Barge," has returned to the port of Salem, having visited the following places, viz. Flores, Fayal, St. Michaels and Madeira, in the North Atlantic Ocean; thence to Tangier, Gibraltar, Algeziras, Malaga, Carthagena, Port Mahon, in the Island of Minorca; Barcelona, Marseilles, Toulon, Genoa, Leghorn, (from thence to Florence by Land, through the beautiful city of Pisa) Porto Ferrajo, Port Rio, Port Longon, in the Island of Elba, and Civita Vecchia (thence to Rome by land.) On leaving Civita Vecchia, for America, passed through the Straits of Bonniface, between Corsica and Sardinia.

The following little Narrative savours so strongly of the romantic, that we should hesitate in believing it, had we not been told it by a Gentleman who witnessed part of the transaction:

A person who had made a considerable fortune in Philadelphia, as a butcher, went on board one of the last ships from Amsterdam, which had a number of German Redemptioners, for the purpose of purchasing one to assist him in his business. After examining the physiognomy of several of the passengers, without being able to please himself, his attention was arrested by the tranquil and composed countenance of a man rather advanced in years, but with much appearance of strength and activity. Not less pleased with the conversation of the German than with his exterior, he described the purpose for which he wanted a servant, and obtained the man's consent to purchase his indentures, provided he would also purchase those of his wife, who had accompanied him. The parties then went ashore to complete the business, attended by the captain; and upon the names of the persons being mentioned, to insert them in the writings, they were the same with those of the purchaser's father and mother; and upon further enquiry, he ascertained them to be, in fact, his father and mother, the latter declaring, that if he was their son, he had a remarkable mole upon his left arm—which proved to be the case! It is added that nothing could surpass the joy of all parties. The Providence of God had snatched the venerable pair from poverty & servitude, and conducted them to plenty and independence, under the protection of an affectionate son. He, it seems, had run away from his parents when quite a boy and from the continual wars in Europe neither had ever heard of the other since.

CONNECTICUT MARBLE.

In the vicinity of New-Haven there is a quarry of very fine marble. It is, says a late traveller through Connecticut, "of that rich and beautiful species, which in Europe is called the Verd Antique; and is rarely to be met with in the old world, except in the palaces of the great and opulent, or in the cabinets of the curious. This, in question, which I understand comes from Milford, appears to be more exquisitely rich in its colors, and better adapted for ornament, or use (on account of its being obtained in large pieces) than any of the kind that has ever before come within my observation.

"This beautiful material has been extremely rare in this country; the high price which it bears in Europe, owing to its scarcity there having hitherto prevented its importation into the United States; but I understand the quarry from which this is taken (though difficult and expensive in working) is inexhaustible, and that there is a prospect, that its proprietors can soon furnish not only an abundant supply for this country, but also considerable quantities for exportation. Indeed it is said to have been already brought into market in Paris, and with encouraging success. The best Italian marbles are far inferior to this—as an American, I cannot but rejoice that we are about to be independent of all foreign nations for this; the richest and most elegant material for furniture buildings, of which any country can boast.

"P. S. Through the politeness of a friend, wrought specimens, and among the rest a superb and highly finished chimney piece, composed entirely of this marble, is at the store of Messrs, S. and H. Huggins. This collection will well reward the curiosity of those who visit it."—Bost. Cent.

Road to New Orleans.—We understand that three companies of the United States' troops are employed opening a road laid out from Maury county line to Madisonville, opposite to New Orleans, which road, it is said will save about one fourth of the distance travelled on the old road from Nashville to New Orleans; and it passes over much better ground. It crosses the Tennessee river at the mouth of Cypress creek, a little below the foot of the Muscle shoals. The road passing through considerable part of the United States' land will increase the value of it very much.

AMERICAN WINE.

VEVAY, IND. SEPT. 16.

The one half of the crop of wine now growing on the farm of the late David Golay, deceased, was sold on Saturday last, at public auction, for the benefit of his heirs, at 73 cents per gallon, to be delivered as coming from the press, the purchasers to furnish the casks. The whole of the crop, the product of about three acres and a half, is estimated at 11 or 12 hundred gallons.—Two men and a few children, besides attending that vineyard, raised a considerable quantity of corn and other articles.

FROM THE BOSTON PATRIOT.

Franklin Music Warehouse, Boston.—This is an establishment, of which, as Americans and Bostonians, we are proud. The building, which is very lofty and spacious, and devoted intirely to the objects of the institution, is erected on the very spot where our Illustrious Franklin, the great patron of the arts and sciences first drew breath. From this circumstance it takes name. The enterprising individuals engaged in this business, have vested a capital to the amount of $50,000. The workmen are all native born Americans, of perfectly regular habits, and the greatest part of them with families. The pursuit in which they are engaged, is the manufacture of musical instruments of every description—from the sonorous and full-toned organ, to the flute and flageolet.

We understand they have attained so great a degree of excellence in their profession, that no imported instruments are any way superior to those of their manufacture; and so strong is their desire to effect something honorable to American name in connection with the arts that they do not admit the slightest assistance from any foreigner whatever. They have lately furnished a Church in Charleston, S. C. and another in Providence, with large and superb organs; which, we understand, give perfect satisfaction. One of the societies of Boston and another of New-York are now negociating with them for two more.—Our southern friends we believe would find it for their interest to send their orders to this establishment instead of Europe; and those editors friendly to the encouragement of the arts on this side the Atlantic would aid the laudable objects they have in view by informing their readers of the existence of this establishment.

Foreign.

LORD AMHERST AND BONAPARTE.

The Caesar, which in consequence of the loss of the Alceste frigate, recently bro't home Lord Amherst and his suit from Batavia, is the bearer of the latest intelligence from St. Helena, relative to the health and manner of living of the ex-Emperor of France. The Caesar having occasion to touch at St. Helena, Lord Amherst expressed a desire to see Bonaparte, and in spite of some obstacles that presented themselves, his lordship, with Capt. Maxwell and Mr. Lynn, surgeon of the Alcaste, was allowed to wait upon him.—On the 2d of July Lord Amherst was ushered into Bonaparte's presence at Longwood, whilst Capt. Maxwell and the surgeon waited in an anti-chamber. It was not long before those officers were desired to join. There was nothing in the appearance of Bonaparte which in the least indicated ill health; on the contrary, he looked well and less bloated than ordinary. In his conversation with the party, his questions were put with his usual rapidity; indeed they followed each other in such quick succession, that answers could only be given to those which appeared most marked and important.—With his general curiosity, Bonaparte inquired of the officers what stations they filled on board the ship, and on learning Mr. Lynn was the surgeon, he inquired what system of pharmacy he pursued: "That depends on circumstances," replied the surgeon. "I hope," rejoined the general, "it is any other than that practised on this island, for here we have the same thing over and over again—bleeding and calomel for ever." The conversation taking a turn on the mission of Lord Amherst to China, his lordship related the cause of its failure; which he ascribed to the necessity imposed upon him by the emperor, of smiting the ground nineteen times with his forehead, an indignity which he intimated could not be submitted to. Here Bonaparte's answer shewed the man.—"Indeed! Now had it suited my policy to send an ambassador to China, I should have instructed him to kiss his great toe; and if that would not do, he might, if required, have saluted a more offensive part, provided my object could be attained."

From the Boston Chronicle, Oct. 9.

From England.—The ship Galen Capt. Tracy, arrived at this port last evening from London. We are indebted to Mr. Topliff, of Merchant's Hall, for papers of that city to the 1st of Sept.

The Emperor of Russia has reduced his army to the peace establishment.

A letter from Paris states that it has been decided that no diminution of the Army of Occupation will take place this year.

Letters from Vienna says that a negociation is spoken of between the Austrian government and the kingdom of the Netherlands.

Intelligence from Constantinople states that the Kiaya Bey, or Minister of the Interior, had been suddenly dismissed and sent into Exile—cause not known.

A fresh disturbance broke out in the city of Mentz on the 19th Aug. The troops of the garrison were called out, a proclamation published.

Paris papers announces that cardinal Talleyrand Perigord had been admitted to audiences to his majesty and the royal family. His elevation gives him the right of sitting in the presence of the princes and princesses.

STOCKHOLM, July 11.

BLUE RULES IN SWEDEN.

The government of Kronsburgh & Calmar, in the province of Smaaland, are the first in which decisive regulations have been made for the re-introduction of ancient northern frugality. The Deputies of the peasantry have not only expressed their will to lay aside the use of all foreign articles, to wear no kind of stuffs but such as are made in the country; but there is also a proposal under deliberation to stamp all the present cloth made of foreign materials, to lay a penalty of from five to ten dollars on the unstamped. Farther to effect among persons of rank an association against the use of foreign strong liquors, rich stuffs, confectionary, and preserves, drinking coffee in the afternoon, and expensive marriages, burials, and christenings. The parish of Ookelbo has resolved upon all this; also that the drinking of what is called gask, or coffee and brandy mixed, that two glasses of brandy shall never be drank directly one after the other; and at entertainments only two glasses at table; that persons under twenty years of age shall be prohibited the use of brandy, coffee and tobacco; that more than three or four dishes shall not be allowed at any meal, only a wedding four or five. The wedding entertainments not to last above two days, and no one to use any furniture and household utensils but such as are made in the country, under an unpatriotic citizen and being regarded with contempt. This agreement is to be read annually from the pulpit.

Miscellaneous.

The sketches of Chauteaubriand during his "Travels in Greece, Palestine, Egypt and Barbary," may please the enthusiastic reader. We copy the following.

SPARTA.—"Sparta was then before me, and its theatre to which my good fortune conducted me on my first arrival, gave me immediately the positions of all the quarters and edifices. I alighted and ran up the hill of the citadel. Just as I reached the top the sun was rising behind the hills of Manelaion. What a a magnificent spectacle! but how melancholy! The solitary stream of the Euotas running beneath the remains of the bridge Babyx; ruins on every side, and not a creature to be seen among them. I stood motionless, in a kind of stupor, at the contemplation of this scene: A mixture of Admiration and grief checked the current of my thoughts and fixed me to the spot! profound silence reigned around me. Determined, at least, to make echo speak in a spot where the human voice is no longer heard, I shouted with all my might, "Leonidas! Leonidas!" No ruin repeated this great name, and Sparta herself seemed to have forgotten her hero.

"The whole site of Lacedemon is uncultivated—the sun parches it in silence, and is incessantly consuming the marble of the tombs. When I beheld this desert, not a plant adorned the ruins, not a bird, not an insect, not a creature enlivened them, save millions of lizards, which crawled without noise up and down the sides of the scorching walls. A dozen half wild horses were feeding here and there upon the withered grass; a shepherd was cultivating a few water-melons in a corner of the theatre, and, at Magoula, which gives its dismal name to Lacedemon, I observed a small grove of cypresses. But this Magoula, formerly a considerable Turkish village, has also perished in this scene of desolation; its buildings are overthrown, and the index of ruin is itself but a ruin."

L'ABBE GREGOIRE.—In Lady Morgan's France the following occurs of this friend of the late Mr. Barlow. "I found it so difficult," says Lady Morgan, "to reconcile the profound humanity of the Abbe's character, with his supposed vote when the life of the unfortunate Louis 16th was at stake, that I one day ventured to touch on the subject; "I never instigated the death of any human being," was the reply. "I voted that Louis 16th should be the first to benefit by the law which abolished capital punishment."

The Gazette of Lausanne contains an interesting account of some particulars relating to the interment of Madame de Stael, and the latter periods of her life. The known intimacy of that lady with M. de Rocca, a young Swiss gentleman of talent and personal beauty, had thrown suspicions on the nature of their connexion, which by the opening of her will, have been satisfactorily removed. It appears that Madame de Stael without assuming his name, had been for some years the wife of Rocca!—By her will she authorised M. de Stael, and her daughter the Dutchess de Broglie, to proclaim their marriage to the world, and to present to their relatives a son who was its offspring. We recollect to have heard that about three years since, when M. de Rocca, as it now appears, in badinage, was before a company of familiar friends pressing Madame de Stael to make him her husband, she replied, Non mon cher Rocca; voudriez vous que je vous sacrifierais un nom vraiment European? "No, my dear Rocca; would you have me to sacrifice to you a name that belongs to Europe?" This speech throws light on the concealment of her marriage.

From all the accounts received, there is a strong probability that William Findlay is elected by a small majority.

[illegible]ller Lowrie, is elected Senator, for district, composed of the counties of Allegheny, Armstrong, Butler and Beaver. [illegible]hard Douglas, William Marks, Jr. [illegible]n Wilson and Andrew Christy, are elected members of the House of Representatives. All these gentlemen belong to the new school.

In Westmoreland county, the Findlay-men have carried their whole ticket.

A Branch of the Bank of the United States, is to be established in this city.—The following gentlemen have been appointed Directors.

George Poe, Jr. is appointed Cashier.

There were 81 deaths from the yellow fever in New Orleans, from the 11th to the 17th September inclusive.

[illegible]ERRIBLE.—A young man, but lately arrived in this place from Ireland, had his arm most dreadfully lacerated on Wednesday morning last, by [illegible]ing too near a cage in which a tiger is kept for [illegible]ow.—The ferocious animal seized him with his claws & drew him to the bars of the cage, and with his teeth, tore nearly all the flesh off his arm, from the shoulder to the elbow. It was with considerable difficulty that the unfortunate young man, was released from his horrible situation. The arm has been amputated and very [illegible]ght hopes are entertained of his recovery.

A severe shock of an Earthquake of [illegible]out 40 seconds duration, was felt in various parts of New-England on Sunday the [illegible] instant.

Col. FRANKLIN WHARTON, of the Marine Corps, has been honorably acquitted by the Court-Martial, the sentence approved by the President, and his sword restored.

Paoli Monument.—The Chester Federalist furnishes a particular account of the ceremony which took place recently on the [illegible]ction of a Monument at Paoli, in Chester county, in this state, to the memory of the brave American Patriots who were massacred by the British under Gen. Grey, in the revolutionary war. The account is too long for insertion in our paper.

Brutality.—The Monitor, a paper printed in Franklin county, Tennessee, states, that a man sold his wife in that county a week or two ago for three hundred & twenty-five dollars.

It is stated in Paris papers, that the demands of the commissioners of foreign powers upon France, for the aid afforded in seating Louis, the Desired, upon the throne, exceed 2,000,000*l.* sterling.

Mr. Incledon, whose vocal powers have gained him celebrity in Europe, has arrived at New-York in the ship John & Edward from Liverpool.

Wholesome act of Justice.

A hackney coachman in London has been sentenced to one month's close confinement in the house of correction, upon bread and water, for cruel treatment to his horses.

IMPORTANT CESSION.

On the 29th or 30th of September, Governor Cass and Gen. McArthur, after surmounting some serious difficulties, concluded a treaty with several tribes of Indians assembled at Fort Meigs. By this treaty the Indians cede to the United States all their claims to lands within the state of Ohio, part of Indiana, and part of Michigan, with the exception of certain reservations at Wakaponnetta, Sandusky, &c. By this arrangement, our frontier settlements will be consolidated from the Wabash to Detroit, and the danger and the difficulties of a war on that border will be very much lessened.

In exchange for those lands, the Indians are to receive from the United States, annually, nine thousand eight hundred dollars. Ohio Fed.

From the vague manner in which it has been announced, that Talleyrand had been made a Cardinal by the Pope, and nominated by the King, Archbishop of Paris, many persons, no doubt, have been led to believe that the man so honored, is the cidevant Bishop of Autun, the infidel Talleyrand, one of the great instruments of the French revolution and afterwards prime minister to Bonaparte: this is an error. The venerable Prelate on whom these dignities have been conferred, is the virtuous exile of that name, heretofore Archbishop of Rheims, uncle to the Apostate Talleyrand, who rather than deny his God and renounce his duty and allegiance, endured all the virulence of the regicide persecution, and after spending twenty years of his life in banishment, has at length, at the very advanced age of ninety years, been restored to his native land and received those marks of distinction due to his virtues, which it was in the power of the head of the church and of his king to bestow on him. Fed. Gazette.

It is a singular fact, that the trial by jury, in civil actions, should not have taken place in Scotland until the last year, the first instance of the kind having occurred in January, 1816, at Edinburgh. It is two centuries since the crowns of England and Scotland were united in James the 1st. and one century since the complete political union of the kingdoms under one legislative as well as executive power. That so important a part of the English system, as the trial by jury, should not have found its way into Scotland until this late period, is truly extraordinary. Daily Adv.

A French paper mentions that the American ship Mary, which arrived at the port of Havre in May last from China, having been a year in the Pacific Ocean, touched at the Marqueas Islands. A number of persons having come on board the ship while at one of these Islands, the crew thought they might safely go on shore unarmed; but these insular Anthropophagi immediately killed two of them and ate them. The captain in consequence retained three of the islanders, and they were still on board the ship on her arrival in France, having on their passage become good sailors. Although they had been humanely treated, they were constantly afraid that the captain intended to eat them. One of them pretended that he was one of the Princes of the country. The bodies of all of them were tattooed.

AN HONEST JUDGE.

An action was brought at Lincoln assizes for the recovery of a horse; Judge Bailey at the close of the cause, in which 50*l* damages were given, strongly discouraged going to law in a case of that nature "Take my advice, gentlemen," said he. "and accommodate matters of this kind if possible; for men in general lose more than 25*l*. in bringing an action on the warranty of a horse, even if they win; and such is the danger from the evidence common in causes like this, that justice is no security to a man for success. I perceive that the gentlemen below me do not approve of my doctrine; but the truth must be told sometimes.

The following remarks from an English paper on our country, places it in a situation which must ever be gratifying for Americans to behold

"All the travellers whom we have ever read express their astonishment of the respect which every American manifests for the laws of his country.—In the most remote and wild situations no one thinks of offering resistance to the laws, any more than he would do in one of their most crowded cities. However far party zeal and even party rage, may be carried on in that free country, the partizans of all parties always respect the laws. What a contrast with the south of Europe, where, under the most absolute governments, the most lawless violence every where prevails; where injustice is practised with impunity, because there is no judge whom bribery cannot gain over. What a contrast with our own sister kingdom, Ireland, where, in many parts, the laws are set at open defiance. If they go on in this manner, giving the name of anarchy to a most signal obedience to the laws, they will soon endear that name to the world."

MR. WEST'S PICTURE.

The celebrated Picture of "Christ Healing the Sick in the Temple," presented by Mr. WEST to the Pennsylvania Hospital, and for the reception and exhibition of which, a building has been erected on the premises on Spruce-street, arrived yesterday in the ship Electra from London. We are informed that the Picture was insured for three thousand guineas. True American.

FROM MADEIRA.

New-York, Oct. 13.—We learn by the Louisa, that the ship Two Friends, Ryan, from Portsmouth, England, had touched at Madeira, having on board 97 officers belonging to Lord Wellington's army, by one of whom capt. Johnston was informed it was their intention to join the Patriot army in South America; and that two more ships, for the same destination, and with similar intention, were to sail from England a short time after them.

Captain J. also informs, that the British transport 406, touched at Madeira, having on board upwards of 100 negroes, bound to the coast of Africa, who had been discharged from British men of war, in consequence of their having no further employment, for them.

Curious stratagem.—The following article is extracted from a German paper, in which it is given under the head of Nuremberg:—

"A young man who had no fortune, requested a lawyer who was his friend to recommend him to a family where he was a daily visitor, and where they had a handsome daughter, who was to have a large fortune. The lawyer agreed, but the father of the young lady, who loved money, immediately asked what property the young man had? The lawyer said he did not exactly know, but he would inquire. The next time he saw his young friend, he asked him if he had any property at all? "No" replied he. "Well, said the lawyer, "would you suffer any one to cut off your nose if he should give you 20,000 dollars for it?—"What an idea! not for all the world?"—"Tis well," replied the lawyer, "I had reason for asking." The next time he saw the girl's father, he said, "I have inquired about this young man's circumstances. He has indeed no ready money but he he has a jewel, for which he has been offered 20,000 dollars." This induced the old father to consent to the marriage, which accordingly took place, though it is said, that in the sequel, he often shook his head when he thought of the jewel.
